Only in yours

Your word speaks of a man
Who lived so long ago, but who knew the great I AM
Whom you gave your very breath
Adam knew from whom he came, you'd given him his name
And I remember, in days gone by
One who followed in the suffering of Christ
Though he knew the cup of pain
And was poured out like an offering, Paul had tasted grace
He was changed by grace (G)

Here I am, draw me in, hold me closer, as those who've gone before
In whose hands, in whose hold, would I place my life, my Lord?

Here I am, draw me in, hold me closer, as those who've gone before
In whose hands, in whose hold, would I place my life, my Lord?

Only in yours, only in yours, only in yours, only in yours
